

Securities Trading Policy

WARNING: It is a criminal offence to buy, sell or otherwise acquire or dispose of securities if you have knowledge which gives you an advantage over other investors in the share market. This offence is called “insider trading”. You can be sent to gaol or fined for “insider trading”. This Policy does not displace obligations to comply with the “insider trading” laws. Please seek legal or professional advice if you have any questions in relation to compliance with such laws.

Policy Summary

What this Policy covers

- Buying and selling securities, especially Keybridge securities.
- Ensuring that trading in Keybridge securities does not occur until the market has absorbed and factored in the effect of Company information released to it.

Who this Policy applies to

- All Directors and employees of Keybridge and its subsidiaries (Keybridge Group); and
- Contractors to Keybridge Group who have agreed to be bound by this Policy.

What this Policy requires of you

- You may not buy or sell securities in Keybridge if you have Keybridge Inside Information; and
- In addition, Directors, direct reports to the Executive Chairman/Managing Director (as applicable, as the case may be) and other staff may only do the above things at other times with written permission.

In summary, “Keybridge Inside Information” is information which you have (and which is not generally known) which suggests that Keybridge securities are worth significantly more (or less) than the market price. Inside Information is explained in detail on pages 2 and 3.

The Compliance Table in Schedule 1 on page 3 contains a summary of what you need to do to be able to buy or sell Keybridge securities.

This is only a summary of this Policy. You are required to read and comply with the full Policy.

Questions about this Policy

If you have any questions about this Policy, contact the Company Secretary on (08) 9214 9767 or cosec@keybridge.com.au.

WARNING: A breach of this Policy is a serious matter and is likely to result in immediate termination of your employment/engagement.

Policy Background - Insider Trading

What is Insider Trading?

Insider Trading in relation to securities and other financial products (including Keybridge securities) is prohibited by section 1043A of the Corporations Act 2001. This Policy operates against the background of that prohibition.

The main kind of Insider Trading

In summary, “Insider Trading” means acquiring or disposing of securities or other financial products when you have Inside Information relating to those financial products.

What is Inside Information?

“Inside Information” means information which:

- (a) is not widely available to financial market (e.g. the Australian Securities Exchange or ASX) investors; and
- (b) a reasonable person would expect to have a significant effect on the price or value of the financial product, if that information was widely available.

What else is “Insider Trading”?

The law against Insider Trading also prohibits:

- (a) you encouraging another person to acquire or dispose of financial products if you have Inside Information relating to those financial products; and
- (b) you telling Inside Information to another person where you should reasonably know that they are likely to acquire or dispose of relevant financial products or persuade another person to do so.

When does information stop being Inside Information?

After Inside Information has been disclosed publicly (e.g. by being released to ASX) it is still Inside Information until investors have had a reasonable time to consider it.

Inside Information Examples - Keybridge

The following are examples of Inside Information relating to Keybridge:

- (a) Keybridge Group is considering a major investment acquisition.
- (b) A material change in the value of Keybridge Group assets.
- (c) Keybridge Group’s financial results materially exceeding (or falling short of) of the market’s expectations.
- (d) A management or business restructuring proposal.
- (e) Another company makes a confidential approach to Keybridge proposing a take-over or merger.
- (f) A Keybridge capital raising or share buy-back proposal.
- (g) The threat of major litigation against the Keybridge Group.

Inside Information Examples – Other Companies

The following are examples of Inside Information that you may have relating to a listed company other than Keybridge:

- (a) Keybridge is considering a major transaction with another listed company - the fact that the transaction will, or may, occur may have a material effect on the price or value of the securities in that other company.
- (b) You become aware, through a close relationship with an executive of another listed company, unrelated to Keybridge, that it is considering entering into a major transaction - similarly, the potential for that transaction to occur may materially affect the price or value of that other company's securities.

Reputational Damage

Insider Trading by Keybridge personnel may damage Keybridge's reputation. Keybridge's reputation may also be damaged if a reasonable person may suspect that Insider Trading has occurred, even if it has not occurred.

Example: an employee who was not aware that Keybridge was about to announce the undertaking of a major new investment buys Keybridge securities shortly before the announcement. A reasonable person may suspect that the employee was aware of the subject of the announcement before it was made.

Enforcement of Insider Trading Laws

The ASX and Government regulators take an active interest in whether Keybridge and its personnel are complying with the law on Insider Trading and this Policy. Regulators may investigate securities transactions which occur before significant ASX announcements to find out whether the buyer or seller acted on Inside Information. Keybridge considers that for a director, employee or contractor of Keybridge to engage in Insider Trading is a serious matter that may adversely affect Keybridge. Keybridge expressly states that for such a person to do so will be a breach of the person's obligations to Keybridge and may result in termination of contracts (including an employment contract) between Keybridge and such person.

1.5 Compliance Table

Schedule 1 is a compliance table to assist you in determining how this Policy may affect you in a particular circumstance. It may not cover all situations and is not a substitute for the terms of the Policy itself.

2 Trading by All Personnel

- 2.1 You must not Trade in Company Securities when you have Keybridge Inside Information, even if you have a Trading Approval.

- 3.5 A Trading Approval will not be issued to operate in a Prohibited Period but you may apply to be exempt from a Prohibited Period under clause 4.
- 3.6 You do not need a Trading Approval (but you must still inform the Trading Officer) to:
- (a) transfer Company Securities between you and your Associates; or
 - (b) transfer Company Securities where there is no change in beneficial interest in the Company Securities.

(Note: You must not do either of these things if you have Keybridge Inside Information.)

4 Prohibited Periods

(Note: you do not need to consider whether a Prohibited Period exists before Trading. A Trading Approval will not be issued to operate in a Prohibited Period.)

- 4.1 Prohibited Periods start when stated in the table below and finish at the beginning of the second (2nd) ASX trading day after the release of the relevant results or announcement. That is, if the results or announcement was released on ASX on trading day one, you may Trade in Company Securities only on trading day three (assuming this is not otherwise prohibited under this Policy).

- 4.5 If exemption is granted by the Trading Officer, you must complete the proposed Trade within 14 days of receiving such exemption, or such shorter period as determined by the Trading Officer based on the circumstances of your request.

5 Issues to Directors and Employees

- 5.1 This Policy does not apply to the issue of any Company Securities to you as an Executive Personnel under an executive/employee equity scheme or otherwise, nor does it apply to the acquisition of shares as a result of the exercise of options issued to you.
- 5.2 However, this Policy does apply to the sale of Company Securities acquired under an executive/employee equity scheme or otherwise and also to the sale of Company Securities acquired following the exercise of an option issued to you under an executive/employee equity scheme or otherwise.

6 Other Prohibited and Restricted Practices

- 6.1 You must not:
- hedge or limit your exposure to risk in any unvested options which were issued to you or your Associate by Keybridge in connection with your Directorship or employment/engagement;
 - use any Company Securities held by you as security for borrowing or other obligations (including in a margin lending facility) without the written consent of the Trading Officer, or
 - engage in Short-Term Trading.
- 6.2 You must not Trade in financial products issued or created over or in respect of Company Securities during Prohibited Periods.

- 6.3 An application for the Trading Officer's consent under Clause 6.1(b) must state all of the facts and be accompanied by copies of relevant supporting documentation and contact details of your financing institution (where applicable). If consent is granted by the Trading Officer, you must complete the proposed financing transaction within 14 days of receiving such consent, or such shorter or longer period as determined by the Trading Officer based on the circumstances of your request.

7 Relations with Security Analysts, Institutions and Journalists

- 7.1 In the course of your duties you may deal with external parties like investment analysts, stock-brokers, institutional investors and journalists. You must not disclose Keybridge Inside Information to any external person without permission.
- 7.2 If you are aware that Keybridge Inside Information has been disclosed without permission you must notify the Company Secretary or the Executive Chairman/Managing Director (as applicable, as the case may be) immediately. They will inform the recipient that the information is Keybridge Inside Information and warn them against improper use of that information.
- 7.3 You must not make public comments regarding any undisclosed operating results or other operational developments without permission.

8 Severe Financial Hardship and Exceptional Circumstances

- 8.1 The determination of whether you are in Severe Financial Hardship or whether a particular set of circumstances falls within the range of Exceptional Circumstances under this Policy (for the purpose of obtaining prior written clearance to sell or otherwise dispose of Company Securities during a Prohibited Period) may only be made by the Trading Officer.
- 8.2 A Severe Financial Hardship or Exceptional Circumstances determination may only be made by examining all of the facts and if necessary obtaining independent verification of the facts from banks, accountants or legal advisors.
- 8.3 You may be in Severe Financial Hardship if you have a pressing financial commitment that cannot be satisfied otherwise than by selling the proposed Company Securities.
- 8.4 There may be Exceptional Circumstances if you are required by a court order, or there are court enforceable undertakings, including, in a bona fide family settlement, to transfer or sell the proposed Company Securities or there is some other overriding legal or regulatory requirement for you to do so
- 8.5 Your tax liability would not normally constitute a Severe Financial Hardship unless you have no other means of satisfying the liability. A tax liability relating to Company Securities granted to you in respect of your employment (under an executive/employee equity scheme or at the discretion of the Board) would also not normally constitute Severe Financial Hardship or otherwise be considered an Exceptional Circumstance.
- 8.6 In recognition of the case that Exceptional Circumstances, by their nature, cannot always be specified in advance, it is envisaged that there may be other circumstances which have not been identified in this Policy, that may be deemed exceptional by the Trading Officer.
- 8.7 You, in seeking clearance to Trade, must satisfy the Trading Officer that you are in Severe Financial Hardship or that your circumstances are otherwise exceptional (that is, there are Exceptional Circumstances) and that the proposed sale or disposal of the relevant Company Securities is the only reasonable course of action available. Your application must be made in writing stating all of the facts and be accompanied by copies of relevant supporting documentation and contact details of your accountant, bank or legal advisor (where applicable).
